Expedite Teams with Freedom Calls to Host Video Conference between a U.S. Soldier Stationed in Iraq and His Family

Westbury, N.Y. – On Sunday June 4, 2006, Expedite Video Conferencing Services, Inc. (Expedite), a leader in building worldwide voice and video networks, teamed with the Freedom Calls Foundation, a public charity, to host a video conference between a U.S. soldier in Iraq and his family in Westbury. By using Expedite's video conferencing equipment and facilities and Freedom Call's satellite network, Marine Corporal Paul Canedo of the 9th ESB was able to see and speak with his family from his war zone station at Al Asad airbase in Iraq's Anbar Province. After not seeing each other for a period of four months, Corporal Canedo and his family were very grateful for the opportunity to do so.

"We're very happy to team with the Freedom Calls Foundation to allow families with deployed soldiers and marines to communicate in real-time with their loved ones abroad. Everyone appreciates this service. It gives me great pleasure to help those who are sacrificing so much for us," said Joe Campolo, President of Expedite.

John Harlow, Executive Director of the Freedom Calls Foundation stated, "the foundation is using state-of-the-art technology to transform an old wartime family communication paradigm. Video conferencing is enabling soldiers in the war zone to attend and participate in milestone family events like weddings, first communions and new births. Soldiers may now keep their commitments to their families, at the same time that they keep their commitment to their country."
