Expedite Receives Polycom's Best Solution Award for 2005

Telemedicine solution wins over all other channel partner entries

Westbury, N.Y. – Expedite Video Conferencing Services, Inc. (Expedite), a leader in building worldwide voice and video networks, has announced that it has received the Polycom Best Solution Award for 2005. The award was presented in May 2006 at Polycom's Global Partners conference. Expedite competed for the award with all of Polycom's other North American Channel Partners. Its winning entry was a telemedicine conferencing solution for the trauma care unit of the University of Vermont / Fletcher Allen Healthcare Network.

"We're very happy and proud to have received this prestigious award," said Joe Campolo, President of Expedite. "Our solution was selected as the best one against some very talented Polycom Channel Partners and some very innovative conferencing implementations."

John Franklin, Polycom Channel Manager, said "Expedite was chosen from a diverse group of Channel Partners that deliver voice and video solutions into the education, government, telejustice, telemedicine, and enterprise vertical markets. I was pleased to have nominated Expedite's telemedicine solution."
